Comment: My client was injured when USG7 agents shackled him and put him in the back of a van with no seat belt, and then hit a tree. He was thrown around the back of the van. They did not report the incident to the police. We filed suit against USG7 in Florida, and served their registered agent, but they did not respond, so we obtained a default (attached).

From the article below, it appears that they have had other default judgments entered against them as well. If this merger is allowed to proceed, Steven and Ashley Jacques (the principals at USG7) will become part-owners of PTS, the nation's largest extradition company. Before the merger is allowed to take place, they should be held accountable for the judgments against USG7.
