Hi

I use rail travel for both personal and business. When I travel it is critical that the trains run on time and on schedule. Frequently, I take the train from Seattle to Spokane and with the schedule as it is today, a late train means getting in after midnight and that's not acceptable. I also take the train between Seattle and Portland or Vancouver BC.

Please look to enforce the rules about trains being ontime and please expand Amtrak service - this is what the American public wants
