Decided: December 14, 1999

By petition filed on October 26, 1999, the Transportation Communications International Union (TCU) requested that the Board issue an order compelling the Union Pacific Railroad Company (UP) to comply with an arbitration award, issued on October 22, 1999, by Robert O’Brien (the O’Brien Award), pertaining to UP’s consolidation of crew hauling work as a result of the Board’s 1996 decision approving UP’s acquisition and control of the Southern Pacific Railroad Corporation (SP). According to TCU, the O’Brien Award allowed UP to transfer crew hauling work performed from, and crew hauling employees working out of, what was, prior to the control and merger transaction, SP’s Armourdale Yard in Kansas City, KS, to UP’s Neff Yard facility 10 miles away in Kansas City, MO, subject to the condition that all of the crew hauling work to be performed out of UP’s Neff Yard facility would be performed under SP’s collective bargaining agreement, rather than the UP collective bargaining agreement under which work at that location was performed prior to the consolidation of the work. TCU alleged that UP is contravening the O’Brien Award by its plans to abolish the positions of 12 clerks performing crew hauling work out of the Armourdale facility, to transfer their work to UP’s Neff Yard without allowing them to follow their work, and to require work to be performed under the allegedly less favorable UP collective bargaining agreement.

By decision served on October 29, 1999, the Board ordered UP to take no action (1) to abolish the positions of the 12 former SP clerks working out of the Armourdale Yard, (2) to transfer their work to UP’s Neff Yard facility, or (3) to remove them from the SP collective bargaining agreement, for a period of 60 days from the date of service of that decision (until December 28, 1999).

In support of a motion requesting a 7-day extension of the deadline for filing a reply to TCU’s petition, UP represented that it has canceled the notice announcing its intention to abolish the positions of the 12 former SP clerks working out of the Armourdale Yard. By decision served on November 17, 1999, the extension requested by UP was granted.

In its reply filed on November 22, 1999, UP maintains that it has not violated the O’Brien Award, that, in view of its cancellation of the notice announcing its intention to abolish the positions of the 12 former SP clerks working out of the Armourdale Yard, there is no outstanding notice to which the O’Brien Award would have any application, and that there is thus no basis for the Board to issue an order directing UP to comply with the O’Brien Award. In view of the important issues raised and UP’s cancellation of the aforementioned notice, it is appropriate to extend our order maintaining the status quo for 60 additional days to allow the Board sufficient time to assess the parties’ arguments on these issues. More importantly, rail labor and rail management have been engaged in negotiations that, as we understand it, if concluded could impact the resolution of the issues presented here. Therefore, the stay imposed by the decision served on October 29, 1999, will be extended for an additional 60 days, until February 26, 2000.

It is ordered:

1. UP will take no action (1) to abolish the positions of 12 former SP clerks working out of the Armourdale Yard, (2) to transfer their work to UP’s Neff Yard facility, or (3) to remove them from the SP collective bargaining agreement until February 26, 2000.

2. This decision is effective on its date of service.

By decision served on October 29, 1999, Chairman Morgan ordered UP to take no action (1) to abolish the positions of the 12 former SP clerks working out of the Armourdale Yard, (2) to transfer their work to UP’s Neff Yard facility, or (3) to remove them from the SP collective bargaining agreement, for a period of 60 days from the service date of that decision.

By motion filed on November 15, 1999, UP requests a 7-day extension, until November 22, 1999, of the deadline for filing a reply to TCU’s petition. In support of its request for an extension, UP represents, in a letter and attachment sent to the Board by facsimile on November 16, 1999, that it has canceled the notice announcing its intention to abolish the positions of the 12 former SP clerks working out of the Armourdale Yard. In a letter sent to the Board by facsimile on November 16, 1999, TCU states that it does not oppose the 7-day extension requested by UP.
The extension requested by UP will be granted.

It is ordered:

1. The deadline for UP to file its reply to TCU's petition is extended until November 22, 1999.

2. This decision is effective on its date of service.

TCU also requests that the Board issue an order preserving the status quo pending a decision.

The standards governing disposition of a petition for stay are set out in Hilton v. Braunskill, 481 U.S. 770, 776 (1987); Cuomo v. United States Nuclear Regulatory Comm’n, 772 F.2d 972, 974 (D.C. Cir. 1985) (Cuomo); Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Commission v. Holiday Tours, Inc., 559 F.2d 841, 843 (D.C. Cir. 1977); Virginia Petroleum Jobbers Association v. FPC, 259 F.2d 921, 925 (D.C. Cir. 1958). Based on these standards, a temporary (housekeeping) order will be issued to preserve the status quo for 60 days, which will allow the Board the time necessary to consider UP’s views in response to TCU’s petition and make a determination on the issues raised by TCU.

In the absence of this order, UP might proceed with its plan (1) to abolish the positions of 12 former SP clerks working out of the Armourdale Yard, (2) to transfer their work to UP’s Neff Yard facility, (3) to discharge the 12 employees without allowing them to follow their work or to require them to work under the less favorable UP collective bargaining agreement at Neff Yard before the Board has had an opportunity to fully consider the issues in the proceeding. This could irreparably harm affected employees.

In contrast, if an order to preserve the status quo for 60 days is issued, the most that can happen to UP is that it will have to employ the 12 former SP crew haulers at their current locations under the SP collective bargaining agreement for that time period while the Board addresses the issues and renders a decision on TCU’s petition.

The public interest supports issuance of this order. The public has an interest in policies that “encourage fair wages and safe and suitable working conditions in the railroad industry [49 U.S.C. 10101(11)]. United States v. Lowden, 308 U.S. 225 (1939). This requires that we be able to forestall actions that might result in irreparable harm to employees until there is an opportunity to address the matter on its merits with a complete record.¹

It is ordered:

1. UP will take no action (1) to abolish the positions of 12 former SP clerks working out of the Armourdale Yard, (2) to transfer their work to UP’s Neff Yard facility, or (3) to remove them from the SP collective bargaining agreement for a period of 60 days from the service date of this decision.

¹ By letter dated October 27, 1999, UP has indicated that it intends to file its reply within the applicable time period provided by the Board’s rules. In the same letter UP has committed to postponing the effective date for its planned action from October 29, 1999, for a 30-day period. UP’s reply is not due under our rules until 20 days from the date of filing of TCU’s petition, which would be November 15, 1999. The Board must have sufficient time to consider UP’s response and to resolve the important issues raised in this proceeding. A stay of 60 days will provide the time to do so.

(Petition for Enforcement of Arbitration Award)

Decided: February 24, 2000

While we are not granting the petition of the Transportation • Communications International Union (TCU) for enforcement of an arbitration award, we likewise are declining to declare, as requested by the railroad, that the award is moot. The award is a valid exercise of the arbitrator’s discretion and will remain in effect, so that, if the railroad were to implement the changes set out in the plan that led to the arbitration award, the railroad must do so under the terms of the award.

BACKGROUND

In 1996, we approved the common control of the rail carriers controlled by the Southern Pacific Rail Corporation, including the Southern Pacific Transportation Company (SP), and the rail carriers controlled by the Union Pacific Corporation, including the Union Pacific Railroad Company (UP), subject to our standard New York Dock conditions for the protection of employees.1

Under New York Dock, changes related to approved transactions are implemented by agreements negotiated before the changes occur. If the parties cannot agree on the nature or extent of the changes, the issues are resolved by arbitration, subject to appeal to the Board under a deferential standard of review. 49 CFR 1115.8. The standard for review is provided in Chicago & North Western Tpnt. Co. — Abandonment, 3 I.C.C.2d 729 (1987), aff’d sub nom. IBEW v. ICC, 826 F.2d 330 (D.C. Once the scope of the (continued...)
In accordance with New York Dock, UP and TCU entered into Implementing Agreement No. NYD-217 (NYD-217), a master agreement to implement the coordination and consolidation of clerical forces throughout the merged system. By notice served under Article II of NYD-217 on June 11, 1998, and amended on June 24, 1998, UP notified TCU of its intention to eliminate all clerical positions assigned to SP’s Armourdale Yard in Kansas City, KS. UP expressed its intent to transfer the work and the employees to clerical positions to be established under the UP-TCU collective bargaining agreement at UP’s Neff Yard, 10 miles away in Kansas City, MO. The work performed by these clerical employees consisted of (1) office and ramp work within the confines of the two yards and (2) “crew hauling” work, whereby engine crews are transported between the locations where they report to work and their trains, between trains, or between their trains and rest facilities.

After TCU objected to the implementation plan proposed in the June 11, 1998 notice, the issues were taken to arbitration. In a letter to TCU, UP agreed to delay the plan during the arbitration. UP reserved the right to cancel the plan and to serve a new notice proposing a new plan at any time, even after the award was issued.³

On March 25, 1999, the arbitrator, Robert O’Brien, issued a proposed award. The arbitrator proposed to allow UP to transfer crew hauling work performed from, and crew hauling employees working out of, SP’s Armourdale Yard to UP’s Neff Yard facility. The arbitrator also proposed to modify the UP collective bargaining agreement so as to preserve certain provisions in the SP collective bargaining agreement pertaining to pay, subcontracting restrictions, and extra board rules. He found that SP’s agreement contained superior pay and benefits that he lacked the authority to alter under New York Dock, citing to the Board’s recent decision in CSX Corp. — Control — Chessie System and Seaboard Coast Line Industries (Arbitration Review), Finance Docket No. 28905 (Sub-No. 22) (STB served Sept. 25, 1998) (Carmen III), limiting an arbitrator’s authority to override a collective bargaining agreement for purposes of implementation of a Board-approved transaction. The arbitrator proposed to deny UP’s request to change the office and ramp work, finding that this aspect of the implementation plan could not be undertaken under New York Dock because it was not related to the merger.

After the arbitrator issued his proposed award, UP notified TCU, in a letter dated May 18, 1999, that the carrier was exercising its right to cancel the June 11, 1998 notice on which the clerical implementation plan was based and that the issues involved in the proposed award were therefore moot.\(^4\) TCU disagreed with UP's contention that the issues involved in the arbitration were moot, and the parties argued this issue in executive session and in written submissions. By letter dated August 25, 1999,\(^5\) the arbitrator notified the parties that, while UP had reserved the right to cancel the plan proposed in the June 11, 1998 notice, it was his opinion that UP's exercise of that right did not render the issues moot.

On August 30, 1999, while the arbitrator was evaluating his proposed award, UP served notices to TCU of its intention to abolish the positions of 12 crew haulers at the Armourdale Yard and to absorb the remaining work with the remaining forces at Armourdale. TCU then objected to the August 30, 1999 notice and demanded that any consolidation of clerical work proposed by UP be subjected to the pending arbitration process.

On October 22, 1999, the arbitrator issued his final award (the O'Brien Award). The arbitrator reaffirmed his proposed award with one important exception. He did not attempt to craft a modified UP collective bargaining agreement for the crew hauling work to be performed at UP's Neff Yard. Instead, he required that all such work be performed under SP's agreement with TCU. The arbitrator based this change on UP's stated desire to have the arbitrator select a single agreement rather than attempt to combine provisions from both agreements. In reaching his final decision, he stated (O'Brien Award at 19) that, in determining whether the carrier has the right to override the SP collective bargaining agreement governing those clerical employees engaged in crew hauling at the Kansas City Terminal, the override limitations imposed on New York Dock arbitrators by the Board in Carmen III "must be strictly observed." Given the choice of either the UP collective bargaining agreement or the SP collective bargaining agreement, and based on the Board's Carmen III decision, the arbitrator imposed the SP collective bargaining agreement, which was more favorable for the affected employees and TCU. Neither party has appealed the O'Brien Award.

By petition filed on October 26, 1999, TCU requests that we issue an order compelling UP to comply with the O'Brien Award. TCU alleged that UP was contravening the O'Brien Award by taking steps to abolish the positions of 12 clerks performing crew hauling work out of the Armourdale facility, to transfer their work to UP's Neff Yard without allowing them to follow their work, and to require work at Neff Yard to be performed under the allegedly less favorable UP collective bargaining agreement.

By decision served on October 29, 1999, the Board ordered UP to take no action (1) to abolish the positions of the 12 former SP clerks working out of the Armourdale Yard, (2) to transfer their work to UP's Neff Yard facility, or (3) to remove them from the SP collective bargaining agreement.

agreement, for a period of 60 days from the date of service of that decision (until December 28, 1999).

In a motion requesting a 7-day extension of the deadline for filing a reply to TCU’s petition, UP represented that it had canceled its August 30, 1999 notice announcing its intention to abolish the positions of the 12 former SP clerks working out of the Armourdale Yard. By decision served on November 17, 1999, the extension requested by UP was granted. On November 22, 1999, UP filed a reply in opposition to TCU’s petition for enforcement. By decision served on December 15, 1999, Chairman Morgan extended the stay for an additional 60 days, until February 26, 2000.

DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSIONS

TCU is asking us to order UP to comply with the O’Brien Award. UP argues that the award may not be enforced because it is moot. UP points to its letter reserving the right to cancel the implementation plan that was to be at issue in the arbitration (the changes proposed in the June 11, 1998 notice) and to serve a new notice adopting a new implementation plan at any time. According to UP, the award is moot because the carrier canceled the implementation plan proposed in its June 11, 1998 notice.

The award is not moot, as it is not without precedential value and could have possible future applicability. UP may seek to implement future merger-related labor changes under New York Dock, which would be impacted by the award. Indeed, TCU has already filed grievances alleging that UP’s merger-related changes in the reporting points of train crew members have created violations of collective bargaining agreement provisions governing crew hauling. According to TCU, UP’s reallocation of crew hauling work from crew haulers working out of SP’s Armourdale Yard under SP’s collective bargaining agreement to crew haulers working out of UP’s Neff Yard under UP’s collective bargaining agreement contravenes the scope rules and subcontracting restrictions in the SP collective bargaining agreement. (See the declarations of Philip A. Beebe and Leslie J. Unrein, attached to TCU’s petition.) We do not reach that issue here because the Board is not charged with interpreting collective bargaining agreements.
Nor is the award defective for requiring that the crew hauling coordination at issue in the June 11, 1998 notice must take place entirely under the SP collective bargaining agreement. It is well established that carriers' authority to implement labor changes under New York Dock is limited, in that carriers are restricted to making labor changes that are necessary to effect the public benefits of transactions approved by the Board. Recognizing this limitation, the arbitrator found that the SP collective bargaining agreement was more favorable to employees than the UP collective bargaining agreement in certain respects and that elimination of these more favorable provisions was not necessary to effect the public benefits of the merger. Rather than attempt to combine provisions from both agreements or to require that the crew haulers transferring from SP's Armourdale yard work under a modified UP agreement, the arbitrator's final award acceded to UP's request for a single collective bargaining agreement, but, in return, his award placed all of the crew haulers transferred from Armourdale Yard, and all of the crew hauling work to be performed at Neff Yard as a result, under the more favorable SP agreement. The arbitrator fully explained what he was doing and why he was doing it. The approach taken by Arbitrator O'Brien and his conclusions were well within his discretion under our New York Dock conditions, as interpreted in Carmen III.

Although the O'Brien Award is not moot and not without future precedential value, the award itself does not require UP to take any actions that are subject to the award. UP must "comply" with the award only if it adopts the implementation plan that was at issue in the award, i.e., by making the changes proposed in the June 11, 1998 notice. UP is not required to make such changes. We are aware of no precedent under New York Dock that prohibits carriers from withdrawing implementation proposals after they have been put to arbitration, especially where, as here, the carrier expressly reserves the right to do so prior to the arbitration.

The ability of carriers in this situation to change implementation plans is not without constraint, however. Under New York Dock, carriers seeking to implement merger-related employment changes must first give notice, enter into negotiations, and submit to arbitration if the negotiations are unfruitful. Thus, if UP adopts a substitute implementation plan that differs from the one proposed in its June 11, 1998 notice, the carrier will have to serve a new notice and proceed under New York Dock if there are objections to the notice. Also, if UP later seeks to revive its June 11, 1998 notice or the plan that led to that notice, the carrier will have to observe the O'Brien Award.7

The stays imposed in the decisions served on October 29, 1999, and December 5, 1999, need not be extended. The stays provided time for the Board to consider the filings of the parties and to issue, as we have today, a decision addressing the parties' positions.

7 Other implementation steps that do not precisely duplicate the ones proposed in the June 11, 1998 notice would also likely be affected by the O'Brien Award. UP admits this by committing itself to "application of the SP collective bargaining agreement in accordance with the O'Brien Award" if the carrier serves "any" future notice that would consolidate or rearrange crew hauling work in the Kansas City Hub. Declaration of Dean Matter, at 10. [Emphasis added.]
This action will not significantly affect either the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

It is ordered:

1. TCU’s petition for enforcement of the O’Brien Award is denied. However, the Board finds that the award is a valid exercise of the arbitrator’s discretion and will remain in effect.

2. This decision is effective on its date of service.

By the Board, Chairman Morgan, Vice Chairman Burkes, and Commissioner Clyburn.
